

CPCA

California Precast
Concrete Association

CPCA was formed in 1990 by a group of precast concrete manufacturers who felt a local organization was necessary to address matters of concern to the precast concrete industry in California. Now, well into the second decade of service to its members, the focus of CPCA remains the advancement of quality, precast products.

CPCA operates as a non-profit California corporation with standing committees under the leadership of an Executive Board. It maintains a strong voice in legislative and industry related regulatory issues.

CPCA prides itself as a member-driven and member supported organization. The association is dedicated to offering producer and affiliate members equal opportunities to all member activities and benefits.

Be sure to check the CPCA website at www.caprecastconcrete.org to see our Buyers Guides and Service Directories.
